FOGG FAMILY IN ENGLAND.

Sir William² Fogg, of Repton, was son and heir of Sir Thomas¹ of Canterbury, and his wife——dau. of William Septvans, of Ash, County Kent.

Sir John³ Fogge, (son of William²), will proved 1490, married Alice, dau. of William Haute of Bishopsborne, Co. Kent, and his wife, Joan, dau. of Richard Wydville of Maidstone, married 1429. Alice (Haute) Fogge was living 1512, was second wife.

Jane⁴ Fogge, (dau. of John³ and wife Alice), married Sir Thomas Green, of Greens Norton, &c.; died 1505. They had Matilda⁵ Green, m. 1508, at the age of 15; d. 1532; buried in Blackfriars Church, London. Matilda⁵ Green, m. Sir Thomas Parr of Kendall Co., Northampton. He died Nov. 12, 1518; buried in Blackfriars Church. Sir Thomas Parr and Matilda Green had Katherine⁶ Parr, Queen Consort to King Henry VIII, 1543-7. She was b. about 1513, being under 12 in 1524. She m. 1st when about 15, (as 2d wife), Edward (Burgh), Lord Burgh of Gainsboro, who d. 1528-9. She m. 2d, (as 3d wife), (John Nevill), Lord Latimer, (1530-43), will proved Mar. 11, 1542-3. She m. 3d, (within 3 months of that date) at Hampton Court, in great state July 12, 1543. (as 6th and last wife), King Henry VIII, who d. Jan. 28, 1546-7. She, like her three immediate predecessors, was never crowned. Shortly, some say 34 days), after the King's death, she m. 4th and last, Thomas (Seymour), Lord Seymour of Sudeley, uncle to the reigning monarch, King Edward VI. She d. Sept. 5, 1548; was buried in Sudeley chapel in her 36th year; but 18 months after the death of the King, her 3rd husband. Her 4th husband survived her, but was beheaded on Tower Hill, Mar. 28, 1549.

The name of Fogg appears to be of great antiquity in England and Wales. Some of that name were from the county of Lancashire, near the borders of North Wales, and settled in the county of Kent, in the reign of Henry I., or about the year 1112 or 1115, or about 50 years after the Norman conquest; some of whom settled in the town Ashford in that county, (which is about 54 miles from London,) in the reign of Henry IV, or about 1400. There was a Sir John Fogg, who founded a college in Ashford, and died there in 1490, his son, Sir John Fogg, resided there; his will is dated Nov. 4, 1533, by which he appoints Edward Lee, Archbishop of York, overseer of his estate. There was also a Sir Francis Fogg at Ashford, who acquired the manor Repton, by his marriage with the co-heiress of the Valoigns; these families were of high standing and of much consequence for many ages, but they are now entirely extinct in Ashford, and perhaps in the county. Calamy gives an account of a Rev. Robert Fogg, an ejected minister in 1662, in North Wales, who from some traits in his disposition, we might reasonably suppose was nearly related to some (by that name) who early settled in this country.

FOGG FAMILY IN AMERICA.

The common progenitor of most, and perhaps all by that name in this country was Samuel Fogg of Hampton, N. H.

According to tradition, three brothers by the name of Fogg, emigrated from Wales to this country prior to the middle of the 17th Century; two of them, Samuel and Robert, or Ralph, are said to have settled in Hampton, and the other in Rhode Island. Of the one settled in Rhode Island, (if there was one), we have no knowledge. Robert, or Ralph, is supposed to have lived and died unmarried. But Mr. Felt speaks of a Ralph Fogg in Salem among the first settlers of that town, but says that he returned to England. At what precise time Samuel Fogg emigrated to this country is unknown, but he was evidently among the very early, if not the first settlers of Hampton, in 1638.

He married, 1st Anne Shaw, dau. of Roger Shaw of Hampton, Oct. 10, 1652. She died about 1661. He married his 2d wife, Mary, dau. of Robert Page of that place, about 1662. He died at Hampton, Apr. 16, 1672. His widow, Mary Page, d. Mar. 8, 1699, aged 56. He was a farmer, and owned a farm in Hampton on which he lived and died.

He was early a member of the Congregational Church in that place, and probably Anne, his first wife; his second wife joined it May 29, 1698.

The farm at Hampton is still in the Fogg name ; one of his descendants, John H. Fogg, of whom "Dow's History" says, "that he lives on the ancestral homestead and owns the farm at Bride Hill, of which there has never been any deeds. As a practical and progressive farmer, he keeps it in a high state of cultivation by the most approved methods and best improvements. Though living far from the centre of the town, Mr. Fogg keeps in touch with public affairs ; has been selectman four years ; was representative to the General Court, 1878 ; is treasurer of the Congregational Society ; has been trustee of the Academy since 1880, and is often and in many ways connected with town interests and trusts. Mrs. Fogg is a lineal descendant of Robert Drake, an officer in the Revolutionary War. The homestead of 150 years, on Drake's Hill in North Hampton, still remains in the Drake family, her brother, Joshua P. Drake, occupying the place ; having recently taken down the old house and built a new one. Mr. and Mrs. Fogg are members of the Congregational Church in Hampton, and both are lineal descendants of Rev. Stephen Bachiler (or Bachelor), the founder of the town."

FOGG FAMILY HISTORY.

An Abstract of an "Account of the Generation of the Fogg's from the first coming into New England down to this present day. Written by Samuel⁴ Fogg as followeth:—"

"Mr. Samuel Fogg¹ the first of that name who came over from Old England into New England, the date of his coming I cannot find, but he came over and settled in the town of Hampton and had three children by his 1st wife viz:— Samuel², Daniel², and Mary²; and by his 2nd wife he had two sons viz:—James² and Seth².

Samuel² the eldest son when he came to be a man grown, sold his interest in Hampton, and moved to Pennsylvania and settled, had many children and spent his days there. Mary² married at Newbury and spent her days there. James² & Seth² both settled in Hampton and lived there to be old men and had many sons. Daniel² the 2nd son, was my grandfather, born in Hampton about the 12th of June 1660; and when he was of age to go to a trade he was put out to a blacksmith where he served his time, and in 1682 went from Hampton to Black Point in Scarborough where he set up his trade and settled.

He married Hannah Libby and had four children born in Scarboro'; the first, a son, died in infancy; the other three were Hannah³, Mary³ and Rebecca³. Rebecca was born in 1688, and in 1689 or '90 her father, which was my grandfather, driven off by the Indians, moved to Portsmouth where he had five children; Samuel³, b. 1691; Daniel³, b. Apr. 12, 1694; John³, b. Jan. 12, 1696; Sarah³ b. Aug. 1698; Joseph³, b. Aug 1700: In 1701 my grandfather bought a farm in Kittery to which he moved, and two sons, Seth³ and James³, were born there. Samuel³, the eldest son, died when about 21 years of age. Hannah, Mary, Rebecca, and Sarah all married and settled in Kittery. John, Joseph and Seth all married in Kittery and then moved to Scarboro' where they remained. James married and settled in Kittery where he remained. Their father which was my grandfather died in Kittery, June 9, 1755, aged 95 years.

Daniel³, the oldest surviving son of Daniel², is my father; when he was of proper age his father put him out apprenticed to a shoemaker, and when his time was out he set up his trade in Kittery where he married and had six children, viz:—Samuel⁴, Anna⁴, Hannah⁴, Reuben⁴, Mary⁴, and Ketura⁴. He bought a farm in Scarboro' and removed there in Oct. 1727, where he had three children, viz:—Esther⁴, Rhoda⁴ and Daniel⁴. Rhoda died when a small child, with throat distemper. All the rest grew up, married and had children except Daniel; he had no children. Reuben settled on the home place with my father where he remained until he built himself a house on the other side of the road. Daniel went to Machias where he married, lived and died. The daughters all married and settled in the town of Scarboro'.

My father after he moved from Kittery to Blackpoint upon his farm, although it was hard beginning upon a new place, yet he built him a house, and grist mill, carried on his farm, brought up his family and made a very comfortable living.

In March 1745, he took a Captain's Commission, enlisted a Company and went to Cape Breton; but sometime in Aug. returned home to Scarboro'. Here he remained in his own house until Feb. 15, 1774, when he and mother having grown old and too feeble to care for themselves, were removed to my brother Reuben's house where mother died Apr. 15, 1775, at the age of 80 years and 8 mo. Father remained with Reuben until Dec. 1, 1782, when he died at the age of 88 years 7 months and 18 days.

I Samuel Fogg was born in Kittery, June 1, 1716, from which place I removed with my father and his family to Scarboro' in 1727. In May 1728 I was severely afflicted with a disease in one hip, brought on I suppose by wading in the water. This gave me and my parents a great deal of trouble until 1742 when I became stronger and quite well except that the afflicted limb was now shorter than the other, the growth having stopped with my first affliction. Being unable to do much out of doors, my father put me out to learn to make shoes, and men's clothes, and also to learn to read write and cipher. In August 1740 I set up my trade in Scarboro' to do what I could toward my support. In the following spring I was employed by the town to keep a school half the year which begun Apr. 1, 1741, again resuming my trade at the close of the school. I was married Jan 27, 1743, in the 27th year of my age, and the 20th of my wife's age. She was born Aug. 19, 1723. In April 1743 having obtained two acres of land I commenced to build me a house which I completed and moved into from my father's in the following November.

But the next spring, about the 19th of May, I was obliged to return to my father's to garrison, where I remained all summer, and returned there every summer to garrison untill Apr. 16, 1747, I moved to garrison to the house of John Libby, Mathew's son, and lived there till Aug. 15, 1749, when I returned to my own home to remain, and went no more to garrison for in the year 1749 peace was concluded with the Indians and we could live peaceably at home then.

In the summer of 1750 I built a small barn; and this year our paper currency was called in and none allowed to pass in this Province, which made money so exceedingly scarce for several years and the times so hard it was very difficult to live, but I made out to maintain my family by my trade with a great deal of effort.

About the year 1755 the Wars came on between the Nations which made the times still worse.

On the 24th of March 1757, the Proprietors of Scarboro' chose me clerk for said Proprietors which proved to be some small profit to me.

In February 1759 my children all had the measles, but through Devine Goodness they all recovered their usual health.

In March this year I was chosen Parish clerk for the 1st Parish in Scarboro', but this was of little or no profit to me.

In 1761-2 I erected an addition to my house, and bought three acres of land adjoining my two acres which I already possessed.

Jeremy my oldest son being out of his time, came home in June 1765 to work at his trade, and the next year we built an addition to the barn that he might have the lower part for a shop to work in.

On March 30th 1767, I was chosen Treasurer for the 1st Parish in Scarboro'. I have served my generation these many years by my trade, but the three or four years past, by reason of drowths, early frosts and the backwardness of people's paying me, have been the hardest and most difficult times I have ever experienced, but through Devine Goodness I have scrabbled along and made out to support my family for which I desire to to be thankful.

On May 28, 1766, my Son Jeremy was married to Mary Warren, and they lived in the house with me, where George their first son was born March 25, 1767, and died May 5, following. About that time my 2nd daughter Sarah began to fail in health, and in June the fevers set in with other ails so that she was very ill and July 4, 1767, she died, aged 14 years, 9 mo, & 29 days.

In December my eldest daughter Esther was taken with a fever and continued very ill untill Jan. 1, 1768, she died, aged 17 yrs., 8 mo. and 29 days. On the 7th of the same month my 3rd son Edmond was taken ill and lay about three weeks, but through mercy he recovered; and on the 10th Anna my 3rd daughter was taken down with fever and lay five weeks before she could sit in a chair while her bed was made, and I did not expect her life from day to day, but in March she became better and soon regained her health.

On March 8th my wife was taken down with fever and lay exceeding ill till the 24th when she died, aged about 44 years.

This is the heaviest and most grievous stroke of all, but I trust that God will be with me, and support me in this my terrible affliction.

March 11th Edmund was taken down the 2d time but after several weeks confinement to the house recovered.

On March 24, 1770, I married the widow Elizabeth Moody; am working at my trade and by the blessing of God we are all in a comfortable state of health. In Dec., 1773, my wife failed in health, but recovered to be taken down again in Feb. 1774, when she continued very ill and died March 17 following. As this is God's will I desire to submit, and hope he will enable me to put my whole trust in Him for help and deliverance from all my difficulty.

Now I have stood Proprietor's clerk, Parish clerk, and Parish treasurer from the first to this March 1776 when I dropped them and settled with the Parish, and in April I let my house and land to Mr. Lancaster in order to move away to New Gloucester, for I had bought 60 acres of land there with the intention of moving to that place. My eldest daughter Anna had been my housekeeper from the time my wife died till Feb. 8, 1776, when she was married and soon after moved to Papoodoc; then I was left with none but Rachel to keep my house, Rhoda having gone to New Gloucester, but by Divine Providence I made out to keep house although with some difficulty.

I have lived or made it my place of residence in Scarboro' since 1740 when I first set up my trade which I have followed with other business till June 3, 1776, when I moved to New Gloucester, I intended to build a house. I lived with my son Enoch in his house till mine could be made ready for me; but the times came on so very difficult, and everything so dear, that I was persuaded to put off building till times were better and things cheaper; but instead of growing cheaper everything changed from bad to worse, and money sunk so low that what little I had by me I lost good part of by shrinkage, and I was obliged to live in Enoch's house with a good deal of difficulty, being two families in one room which made it very difficult, but by Divine assistance we have made out, for we have enjoyed our health very well ever since I have been here, so I have been enabled to do something toward my house.

Sept. 1st Samuel was taken ill with bloody flux from which he suffered about three weeks, but recovered.

On the 7th of the same month Louis, Enoch's wife, was taken down with the same distemper, and on the 18th inst it pleased God to take her away. All three of her children were ill of the same distemper when their mother died, and it was difficult for Rhoda and Rachel to take care of them and the housework, but through mercy they recovered.

In April, 1779, I raised my house frame, and during the summer boarded it, and made bricks for the chimneys which I put up in November and on the 20th of this month moved into my new house, having lived in Enoch's about three years and a half. In the Winter of 1779 I kept school in my western room, and in March my son Edmund moved his family from Pearsons town (Standish) into my Western room where he lived till Sept. 1780, he moved into his own house. I lived in my house till March 27, 1782, when I moved again, having lived here with a good deal of difficulty by reason of the war, and the land proved so poor for Indian corn that we could scarcely raise our bread on the lot. Samuel was so discontented to live here that we got another lot further into the woods joining to Edmund's lot to which we moved in March 1782. We made our abode in an old log house which was on the place, and the summer following took down my house and chimneys and rebuilt them on the new spot in the woods, and in August 1783 moved into my house again. Here we find good land, have built us a barn, done some farm work, and have our health pretty well.

Tuesday, Aug. 3, 1784, I started to travel to Black Point and went to Enoch's and stayed that night, on Wednesday I went to North Yarmouth and called on Daniel Staples where I remained till Friday, then I went to brother Staples' at Presumpscot and stayed that night; Saturday I went to Falmouth by water, got over the ferry and went to brother Marriner's and stayed with them that night; Sunday I went to meeting. Monday the 9th I went to brother Dyer's and stayed round there till Wednesday, when I traveled to Black Point to my brother's and about there till Wednesday the 18th I rode in a chaise up to Morrise's, and traveled from there down to Jeremy's and Joseph's and stayed till Friday the 27th. I went from here to sister Hanscom's, stayed that night, Saturday to Oak Hill, Sunday to meeting, and to my brother's again, and about Black Point till Monday the 13th of September, I traveled to Poupudok again, Thursday I returned to brother Staple's, Monday the 20th I went to Danl Staple's, Wednesday to Enoch's and Thursday Sept. 23, I reached home where I renew my routine of farm work and whatever

I can do at my trade of mending and making clothes and shoes. July 3d 1786 I went over to John Chandler's and stayed a day or two, then returned home and to my garden work, among my tobacco, beans, and cabbage plants, gathering them in, thrashing the beans, and working about the corn till Winter when I could not get out much.

June 27, 1787, I went over to John McGuire's and John Chandler's four or five days, then home to my garden work again till Winter and so on.

March 15, 1788, my son-in-law John Chandler died. The summer of 1789 I raised but little tobacco, beans etc., it being so very dry and such a multitude of grass-hoppers that seemed to destroy all before them. Trouble and difficulty still increases with my decrepid old age, so I am brought very low.

For these last few years I cannot do much but walk about and read and mend my own clothes. I have a troublesome cough with my other difficulties and cannot expect to continue long, but I desire to praise God for all his goodness to me, and beg that when my life is ended here He may receive me to Glory for Christ's sake, Amen.

This 12th day of June 1793 I am 77 years old."

John⁷, son of Abraham⁶, m.—Drake, descendant of Robert Drake, lives on the place first settled by Samuel (1) in Hampton, N. H.

Daniel Fogg (6), son of Samuel (1), was about 12 years of age at the time of his father's death in Hampton. Subsequently he learned the trade of a blacksmith, and in 1682 removed to Black Point, Scarborough, Me., where he settled and set up his trade, and received several grants of land from the town. He married Hannah Libby about 1683-4, and had four children born to him in Scarborough; the first, a son, died in infancy; the other three were Hannah, Mary and Rebecca. Rebecca was born in 1688.

In 1689 or 90, he left Scarborough at the breaking up of that settlement by the Indians and returned to Portsmouth, N. H., and tradition says settled on an island in the Piscataqua river belonging to that town.

In 1701, he bought in Kittery, (now Eliot), a farm adjoining the river between Frank's and Watt's Fort which is still in possession of his descendants. Here he resided until the time of his death, June 9, 1755. He was one of seven original members of the Congregational Church in Kittery at its organization, June 22, 1721. His wife died between 1730 and 1735. His Children were:—

Amanda M. Fogg (daughter of William and Hannah (Ward) Fogg) married Charles Chase Clement in Haverhill, Massachusetts, October 6, 1885. There was one child of this marriage, a daughter, Alice Whittier Clement, born December 30, 1898, in Jamaica Plain, Massachusetts. On June 18, 1927 this daughter married Howard Boynton Worden of New Haven, Connecticut, in Boston, Massachusetts, and she has one son, Phillip Curtis Worden, born March 14, 1928, in Jamaica Plain, Massachusetts. Amanda M. Clement, Alice Clement Worden and Phillip Curtis Worden are all living and reside in Rockport, Massachusetts.

Sincerely yours, Alice Clement Worden -

Now there is another generation. My son (my only child) married Eva Lillian Clark of Twin Falls, Idaho, on June 18, 1953, and they have a daughter, Nancy Lee Worden, who was born November 29, 1954, and a daughter Linda Sue Worden, who was born November 26, 1956. The Phillip Worden family lives in Yakima, Washington. I trust this will be of interest for addition to the page mentioned above in the "Genealogy of the Fogg Family." Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Alice Clement Worden
